

CCS Puzzle = One Family

Community Inclusion Facilitator Ashley White came up with an idea to show case the work of individuals that receive services here at CCS. Ashley had seen puzzle pieces around the community and thought it would be an interesting, new way to show art work of the people that receive services through CCS. "I feel that it represents CCS because everyone is so different and we all come together as one family," stated Ashley. Take a look at the pictures below and you will agree with Ashley that we all are so different but we all are one.
